Single Sign On

Authentication at the Advanced Computing and e-Science Group services is centralized. This enables the access to several services with an unique combination of login and password. Those services are, among others:

- Altamira supercomputer.
- Cloud infrastructure (Cloud/Usage for more information).
- NextCloud storage.
- GRID cluster (see Grid/Usage for more information).
- INDICO conferences management.
- Support pages.
- e-Science and Advanced Computing Wiki.
- Development server and software repository (upon request).
- Virtualization servers (upon request).

Manage your account

Should you wish to change any of your user properties, please log into https://auth01.ifca.es/.

Requesting an account

Please contact grid.support@ifca.unican.es explaining who you are and why do you need it.

You need to specify your full name, department (if any) a phone number and your email address.